S.S.S.
CURES SCROFULA

Mrs. E. J. Rowell, Medford, Mass., says her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of S.S.S. after having had much other treatment, and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.

S.S.S. Cured my little boy of hereditary scrofula, which appeared all over his face. For a year I had given up all hope of his recovery, when finally I was induced to use S.S.S. A few bottles cured him, and no symptoms of the disease remain.

F. MALANI.

Looking for More Money.

The national Republican committee, through Chairman Thomas H. Carter, is sending out most urgent letters to the leaders of the party for funds to pay the deficiency in the national campaign fund. One of these letters to a southern member of the national committee was shown your correspondent. This letter was signed by Chairman Carter and stated that the national committee had a deficiency after the election of nearly $225,000.

It stated that at the eleventh hour Republicans discovered that defeat was inevitable, and though the campaign committee had kept campaign expenses well within the limits of subscriptions thereto, it was found that subscribers who had pledged a half million dollars to the party refused to fulfill their obligations, and the result is that the committee is urgently pressed to meet debts with an empty treasury. He states that after carefully considering where to get the amount the committee has made an assessment on good party men of an amount sufficient to pay the deficit.

The assessment of the man who received the letter was fixed at $1,000. He was asked to collect the money or forward it in five days by check or draft made payable to Duane, treasurer of the committee, at his address in New York.—Mobile Cor. Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Popularity of Astrology.

It will surprise a large majority of readers to be told that astrology as a science is not only holding its own in England today, but has during the past ten years made such strides that it is felt by many that the "Rogues and Vagabonds" act, which prevents the casting of horoscopes for gain, will by this next parliament stand a chance of being repealed.

A large number of regular professional astrologers live in London, and they one and all agree that the science has distinctly become more popular since 1886. Previous to that date they carried on their horoscopical practice in fear and trembling, but there has been no prosecution of an astrologer, qua astrologer, in England for four years now, the last being at Bow street, when "Neptune," an intuitive seer, was mulcted in five pounds for casting a horoscope; a barrister in court, who had never seen or heard of him before, springing up to defend him gratuitously on the sole ground that he himself was a believer and a practicer of astrology. Six years ago there were no periodicals in England devoted to astrology. There are now three.—Edgar Lee in Arena.

Lord Rosebery's Ambitious Success.

As a young man Lord Rosebery set out with a determination of making a mark in the history of his country, and hitherto everything that he has attempted has been attended by success. He has won the Derby, he has married the richest heiress in the United Kingdom, he has become a cabinet minister, he has just been created a Knight of the Garter, and if he avoids the royal union projected he will eventually blossom forth into prime minister of the empire. On the continent his talents are held in even still greater estimation than in England, especially at Paris and at Berlin, and he is a particular favorite of Prince Bismarck.—Chicago News-Record.

The Khan of Khiva in Europe.

The khan of Khiva, Lyed Mohammed Rahim, is now paying a visit to the courts of Europe. He has visited St Petersburg and will visit Berlin, Vienna, London and Paris. The khan is in his fifty-third year. He speaks several languages, including the Persian, Arabic and Russian, and his dress is that of a European, although his connections are those of an orthodox Mussulman. He travels in company of his mollak or priest and his own cook, as he eats no food but that prepared according to the rites of his religion. The khan's annual income is about $200,000. His court is quite modern in its rules and observances.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Serenaded by 20,000 Swallows.

The swallow nuisance continues with unabated vigor at the Naval academy, Annapolis. From 8,000 to 20,000 swallows gather every evening in the five or six maple trees in front of the superintendent's residence and make evening and morning hideous with their cries. All efforts to drive them away have failed, and a bell and gong are kept going at intervals to drive the pests from the two trees next the superintendent's house. Every year this disagreeable rendezvous is maintained by the swallows.—Baltimore Sun.

Transferring a Pension by Marriage.

A peculiar marriage was celebrated at San Antonio Wednesday. C. J. Ennis, aged eighty-six years, an old Mexican war veteran, who was in a dying condition, was married to Elizabeth Baccus, aged seventy-seven years. Ennis is in receipt of a monthly stipend of eight dollars from the government. In gratitude to the woman who is now his wife and nursed him for the past two or three years he desired that the marriage take place, so that his dutiful nurse will receive his pension after his death.—Cor. New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Lovers Drowned Together.

Miss Lola Burnett and Mr. George Kennecutt, engaged to be married, fell through the ice while skating on a pond about three miles south of Nebraska City and were drowned. No one was with them. Their prolonged absence led to a search. The bodies were recovered. Miss Burnett was a graduate of the high school here. Kennecutt was the son of a prosperous farmer.—Nebraska State Journal.

General Armstrong, of the Hampton institute, Virginia, although much improved in health, still gives some evidence of his paralytic shock of a year or two ago.

The queen's preferences are now said to be toward Devere, the Irish poet, for the vacant laureateship.

Stirring Up the Texas Snakes.

General Dyrenforth's big wooden hydrogen gas tank sprung a leak last night, and the circumambient air was loaded with something which affected all animal nature in San Antonio. The small lizard on Alamo heights climbed into the mesquite brush to get a breath of fresh air, and the jackrabbit ran for the tall timber. The rattlesnakes relaxed their grip about the tree trunks, and were observed today in a state of coma. Humanity could do little more than hold its nose and hold on tight. General Dyrenforth is above all such trifles, and with a clothespin on his nose he rode about just as he did years ago in the Chickahominy swamps.

The general wanted to honor a lady who was present, and brought forth a 10-pound bag of roselite. It was hung to the limb of a tree about 1,000 yards from camp. It was discharged with an electric battery. A few moments later the men in charge of the explosion brought in a dead rattlesnake four feet long, two jack rabbits, and a wild turkey from General Breckinridge's preserve. The rattlesnake looked like a pin cushion. He was killed by the shock, but his hide was punctured millions of times by splinters from the shattered tree. The snake was as thick as a gas main. His head was donated to the University of Dallas. The incident has made the Dyrenforth party, wary of snakes.—Texas Cor. Chicago Herald.

Never Too Late for Romance.

A marriage was celebrated near Jefferson, in Jackson county, Sunday, in which hope deferred made an old heart glad. Saturday an old man registered at the Howard House in Jefferson. He wrote his name, "John McCabe, Ohio," in a trembling hand, and began inquiring about some of the older families of that section. Among the persons for whom he had asked were the Niblocks and Daniels.

He had left Jackson county in 1835, being then eighteen years of age, and was never heard of after. The cause of his departure was the preference shown by his fiancee, Miss Jessie Carmichael, for a young neighbor, Edward Toomer. He went into the then new country of Ohio, married, reared a large family and became one of the patriarchs of his section. Later his wife died, and a great desire came over him to see the people whom he had known in his youth.

The old man's glee was great when he discovered that the girl whom he had loved, now the widow of Toomer, was still alive. He went to see her, and the result was a wedding.—Cor. New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Scientific Study of Religion.

Science exercises and develops functions which are not essentially antagonistic to religion, but they are not the functions of religion, and if they be given first place in our interest, religious growth must deteriorate in proportion to its neglect. The functions of religion must be exercised or they will become incapable of action; they must be educated or they will become weak and useless. Scientific study, though extremely fascinating, though it fills us with exalted notions of the complexity of the universe, and of the wonderful harmony of its correlations, leads us to no hope. We find in it only stern, relentless law; it has no feeling and its end is certain death.

And what does it profit unless we keep alive those religious functions which conduct us to the other world of religious belief?—Professor H. S. Williams in Century.

He Annoyed the Police.

Herr Grasser is the name of a Vienna crank who has given the police of that city a great deal of annoyance and will shortly have to answer for it in court. He has repeatedly pretended to commit suicide by drowning himself. He is a good swimmer, and he always swam to the shore after amusing himself for awhile at the consternation of the spectators. A few days ago he quarreled with his wife and jumped into the river to alarm her. A brave policeman jumped in after him and pulled him ashore. The man heaped the policeman with insults, ran to the bridge and jumped into the river again. The frightened wife prayed the policeman to save him again. He did so, but only to be again cursed.—Vienna Tageblatt.

From the Sandwich Islands.

A lizard hatchery started in Dr. Miller's drug store last Friday. About two weeks ago a fruit man gave Frank Eldredge a small egg found in a bunch of bananas from the Sandwich Islands. Frank put the egg in a show case as a curiosity, and nothing more was thought of it until Friday, when Charley Miller opened the case to get something. Imagine his surprise when he found the egg had hatched and a beautiful little blue lizard was enjoying himself among the soap boxes and perfumery bottles. His lizardship is quite an acquisition to Eldredge's amphibia menagerie, museum of natural curiosities, etc.—Shasta County Republican.

Buying a Coffin in Time.

It is a melancholy fact that some selfish, inconsiderate and brutal natures not only are in a hurry to get the old folks "out of the way" and divide the spoils, but take no pains to conceal it. An illustration was noticed one day last week in Somerset county, where an old man's coffin was carried into his house while he stood outside smoking his pipe and dully looking on. And then a girl had the effrontery to "ask grandpa to get into it, just to see how he would look."—Pittsfield (Me.) Advertiser.

The new iron monuments being placed on the boundary line between Arizona and New Mexico are seven feet in height and weigh about 800 pounds. They are laid five miles apart.

A bricklayer at Hereford, England, on receiving an intimation that he had been left $50,000, immediately put down his trowel and refused to work another minute.

All from Reading a Novel.

There are two men in this city who are thoroughly convinced that much good may come out of the perusal of flashy novels. They have been sojourning in state prison for the last five years—one in Sing Sing and the other in Auburn. A day or two before Thanksgiving they returned to their respective homes free men. The governor had become satisfied that they were innocent men, wrongfully convicted, and had pardoned them.

The reading of a flashy novel by one of the convicts while lounging in the corridors of the prison led to an investigation which convinced a great many influential persons in this city that two men had been railroaded to prison—one for fifteen years and the other for eighteen years—simply because of lack of proper legal defense. The reader of the novel was so impressed by the exuberant sentiment that trickled through the narrative that he made up his mind that the authoress, for it was a woman's story, must be very soft hearted.

He therefore lost no time in sending her a written statement of his case, with an appeal to aid him in securing his liberty. The story touched the heart of the novel writer, and she supplied the necessary money to have a complete investigation of the case made by an eminent New York lawyer. The active interest of a New York newspaper man was also enlisted, and a good deal of hard work was done within a few months. The producer of lurid novels forgot her calling in her enthusiastic fight for justice, and it is safe to say that the two liberated men will never be found in the ranks of those who treat her stories with contumely.—New York Times.

For the Greater United States.

At a meeting of the South Norfolk Liberal association on Saturday there was an almost unanimous expression of opinion in favor of the political union of Canada with the United States. Following upon the resolution passed by the Liberals of the town of Simcoe on the previous day this event indicates a drift of public sentiment which it would be useless to ignore or belittle. Politicians of the small sort may try to make capital out of the fact that these declarations were made by Liberal conventions. It would be easy to point out, on the other hand, that two of the leaders in the annexationist movement, Mr. Solomon White, M. P. P., and Mr. T. M. White, secretary of the Political Union association, are Conservatives, and that a majority of the signers of an annexationist document published in this city are of the same political faith.—Toronto Globe.

Elevated Electric Railway.

A syndicate of engineers has applied for the privilege of constructing an elevated railroad in Paris to be operated by electricity. The project divides the city into two parts by a line running north and south.

A new street, 165 feet in width, will be built, which will open into the principal quarters, the Bourse, the Halles Centrales, the Palais du Senat and the Jardin des Plantes.

The central part of this route will be reserved for the elevated line, which will have two tracks resting on four rows of iron columns twenty-three feet in height. The projected line will connect with the Metropolitan railway and with the important lines which already exist.—Electrical World.

Sailors' Trousers in Science.

A sailor's trousers are the foundation on which the learned Professor Heilprin, of the Philadelphia Academy of Sciences, rests his theory that the north pole can be discovered, and that within a few years. This garment was the property of a seaman whose ship entered the arctic regions by Behring sea. Somehow the apparel got into the ocean current, was swept away up toward the pole and finally came down along the shore of Greenland; where it was discovered. A ship, argues Professor Heilprin, can go where these trousers have been. And it is a fact that an expedition is going to start from Norway in the spring of 1893 to try it.—Boston Journal.

Would Like Tennyson's Place.

Since Miss Monroe, of Chicago, appeared already laurel crowned and with an ode that she had written herself the bee of poetic ambition has flitted away and now buzzes in the plug hat of the Marquis of Lorne. He wants to garb himself in the mantle of Tennyson. With this laudable end in view he is building some verses to his distinguished mother-in-law, and it is feared no one will dare to tell her how bad they are. Somebody who really respects the late laureate's mantle should swear out an injunction.—San Francisco Examiner.

Philadelphia's Monument to McClellan.

William Waldorf Astor has sent to the McClellan association, payable to Governor Pattison's order, a certified check for $1,000. Sculptor Ellicott gets $5,000 for his completed model. The state pays $5,000 for the pedestal, and the entire work is expected to cost $20,000. Bids will be opened in a few days, and the present intention is to unveil the statue in May.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

General Longstreet an Author.

General Longstreet will soon have the manuscript for his book in the hands of the publishers. It will be remembered that it was nearly finished when destroyed by fire a few years ago. His handsomely furnished residence, with library, war records and manuscripts, was entirely consumed, and he had to rewrite the book.—Exchange.

Charitable Distributions.

The Duke of Portland, in accordance with a custom which he began last year, has distributed among the various charitable institutions in Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Yorkshire and Lancashire the amount received during the summer as entrance fees to Welbeck abbey. The receipts this year amounted to £1,033.—London Tit-Bits.

SONOMA, FEBRUARY 18, 1893.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR.

PRESIDENT-ELECT CLEVELAND has officially announced the names of four members of his Cabinet through the Associated Press. They are Walter G. Gresham of Illinois, Secretary of State; John G. Carlisle of Kentucky, Secretary of the Treasury; Daniel S. Lamont of New York, Secretary of War; and Wilson S. Bissell of Buffalo, Postmaster-General. In making the annoucements Cleveland said: "There is no need of any mystery in regard to the Cabinet, and it is useless to indulge in speculations and guesswork. I shall make no secret of the matter, but shall announce the names of the gentlemen selected to fill the positions as fast as I receive their acceptances and their permission to make the matter public."

THE hanging of niggers in the South is still a popular pastime. Recently a negro named Blount was arrested on suspicion of assaulting a Mrs. Moore and lodged in jail. The other day, although the lady could not identifyhim and expressed a doubt as to his being the right man, a mob took the poor wretch from jail and hanged him, apparently on general principles.

THE argument of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway Company to the Legislature against the adoption of Senate constitutional amendment No. 8 and Assembly constitutional amendment No. 14 has been issued in pamphlet form by J. F. Burgin, President of the railroad company.

The Dying Editor.

The owner of a paper lay dying in his lair, and the dew of death had gathered on his brow so calm and fair; but a printer knelt beside him as his life-blood ebbed away, and asked the dying writer if he had a word to say. The doomed man murmured softly as he grabbed the printer's fist: "Well, at last the struggle's over and I never will be missed. Take a message and a token to that city man of mine, that all his worn-out chestnuts he had better put in brine. There's his joke about the weather, which he's used this many years, and the gag about the fellow who is always hunting beers. And the item he's so fond of on the man who peddles books, and the chestnut on the people who go fishing in the brooks; just to save the paper's credit, and to cast no slurs on mine, I would ask him as a favor just to put such gags in brine. And the lies he's fond of telling of the street cars and the tracks, and the joke about the man who stepped upon some tacks, and the one about some dandy who will never pay for clothes, and the one on women cleaning house—its weary, heaven knows! Oh, I know I'll slumber happy in my grave beneath the vine, if the man who does the city work will put these jokes in brine. Tell the man who tends to business not to weep when I am dead, but to buy himself a club and hit the first man on the head who comes in with strings of items and requests them printed free, when regular rates are cheaper than they really ought to be. Tell the foreman, when he makes up not to turn a rule for me, but to simply print an item saying that my soul is free; for I want no eulogistic taffy of that kind in mine, and I think such hoary chestnuts should be pickled well in brine. Have that gay and fresh reporter I engaged the other day, put a stop to saying 'Selah,' also 'We have come to stay;' and if he should say 'Ye local' you must trample in his gore, for you know I'd ne'er allow it in the happy days of yore. And the man who comes to tell you how to run the paper well should be greeted, as he enters, with a pewter chestnut bell; and you'll print the paper promptly, by the weather full of storms, and the foreman must be careful when he is making up the forms, that the beauty of the paper may through all the ages shine; and not be like its neighbors, only fit to put in brine."—Newspaper Man.

Look Out.

At zero or below it is a dangerous condition of temperature to those of enfeebled constitutions, either from age or infirmity. It is just such a condition of the weather as increases ten-fold the intensity or spread of rheumatic pains and aches. But the remedy and cure is so simple and sure it is to be wondered at that any permit themselves to suffer a day, or an hour, when at any drug store St. Jacobs Oil can be had, which not only cures rheumatism, but there is no return of the trouble.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

THURSDAY, February 9th.

An order was made that all parties submitting a report or reports who have collected moneys belonging to the county shall have the County Auditor's discharge attached to the same to show that the moneys have been turned over to the County Treasurer. The reports of the County Treasurer and Auditor were accepted by the Board. The boundary line between Manzanita and Healdsburg school district was changed on petition of T. J. Barnes et al. The monthly indigent list, aggregating $642, was allowed.

FRIDAY, February 10th.

On motion of Supervisor Hall a committee, consisting of Supervisors Joost and Hall, was appointed to visit and inspect the Houser bridge, now being constructed on south fork of the Gualala river.

The petition of Peter Hauto et al., for extension of road from Embarcadero to Lower Landing on Sonoma creek, was dismissed on account of informalities in viewer's report.

On motion of Supervisor Joost, Supervisor Thompson, an ex-officio road commissioner, was empowered to have a gate removed which obstructs the road leading from Embarcadero to Lower Landing on Sonoma creek.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids to maintain and keep in repair all roads, bridges and culverts in the following road districts: Sonoma, Penn's Grove, Lakeville, Petaluma, Sebastopol, Bloomfield, Fulton, Santa Rosa, Russian River, Healdsburg, Mendocino, Skaggs' Springs, Washington, Cloverdale, Knight's Valley, Stewart's Point, Fort Ross, Ocean, Redwood, Bodega. Contracts are to be made for one year and according to the following specifications:

All roads are to be kept in a safe and passable condition at all times; to be kept well rounded up in the center with the best material to be had, so that water will not remain in any of the traveled portion thereof; to be properly ditched and drained and all culverts must be kept open for the free passage of water and in good repair; repair all bridges or culverts and renew or rebuild any bridge or culvert under sixteen feet span; keep the traveled portion of the road free from all brush or branches that would interfere with the comfort or safety of ordinary travel, keep all the roadways clear of thistles and cockelburs.

SATURDAY, February 11th.

A deplorable tragedy occurred on the Meacham ranch near Petaluma, last Monday morning. At about half-past two o'clock James Gray was awakened by a man who was endeavoring to get into his house. He arose from his bed and arming himself with a shot gun went to the door and opened it and ordered the intruder to leave. Instead of doing so, the man evidently not understanding Gray, approached him when he let fly with his gun and shot the stranger dead. He proved to be an inoffensive Italian named Paul Bettrametti. Marshal Collins went to the scene of the tragedy and arrested Gray and had the body removed to the morgue. It is believed that the affair was a mistake all around, as Gray had never seen the deceased before, and the latter was evidently hunting for a Swiss vegetable man known as "Charley" living in that immediate neighborhood. It is also believed that Bettrametti was under the influence of liquor at the time. Gray, having had some trouble with some of his Portuguese neighbors, was suspicious that some of them were around his house that night. Gray is out on bonds.

It requires but a moment to start it and after being started requires no further attention. There is no firing up, no smoke, no ashes, no steam or water gauge to watch and its motions are watch-like in regularity. These engines vary in size from one to fifteen horse power. Farmers, dairymen and mechanics should not fail to call at Mr. Fochetti's shop and see this engine work. He is the only authorized agent for the above engine in Sonoma county and will guarantee every one that he sells. See his advertisement in another column.

BOGGS CARRIGER MURDER TRIAL.

The Testimony – The Defendant Convicted of Murder in the Second Degree.

The trial of Albert Boggs Carriger, charged with killing his brother Wm. W. Carriger, near this place last August, was commenced before Judge Dougherty in Santa Rosa last Wednesday morning.

The history of the tragedy has already been told in these columns. On the night of August 27th, Robt. Fowler, who was stopping on the Carriger farm, came into town for a physician, stating that Boggs Carriger had accidentally shot his brother William. The tragedy took place about 10 o'clock at night. There were but three persons in the house at the time, William, Boggs and Robert Fowler. William and Fowler had eaten supper and William went up stairs to bed. He had been there but a few moments when Boggs followed him. A moment later a pistol shot was heard and when Fowler rushed up he found William on the floor, shot through the heart. He and Boggs laid him on the bed. William asked for a drink of water and died within a few moments from the time the shot was fired.

Boggs was arrested for the murder of his brother. He said, however, that the shooting was accidental; that he had gone up stairs to get a revolver with which to shoot some varmints that had been bothering the place; that when he had secured the weapon and started down stairs he met William, who attempted to take it away from him which caused it to be discharged.

A coroner's jury found that Wm. Carriger came to his death by being shot with a pistol in the hands of Boggs Carriger.

The prosecution was conducted by ex-District Attorney Burnett, J. R. Leppo and District Attorney Seawell. The defense was represented by Barclay Henley, R. M. Swain and A. B. Ware.

Attorney Burnett opened the case for the prosecution and stated to the jury that he expected to prove the killing of Carriger was a willful murder.

L. E. Rickseeker was the first witness called. He explained a diagram of the house in which the shooting took place, pointing out the room in which Wm. Carriger's body was found, giving the dimensions, etc. He also testified to seeing blood stains on the floor and door.

Dr. W. K. Vance testified that he went to the Carriger ranch on the evening of August 27th in company with George Tate. He found the dead body of William Carriger lying on the bed with a wound on the left side over the region of the heart, and he was dressed in an ordinary suit of clothes. An autopsy was held the following day, and it was discovered that the bullet had struck the fifth rib, passing through the membrane of the lungs, the heart and liver, where trace was lost and that it was never located. A voluntary conclusion of the witness that it did not appear that the shot was fired from above was objected to and ruled out. He further testified that no trace of powder marks were discernable upon the clothes or body, but upon cross-examination it was brought out that there was so much blood it could not be definitely determined whether there were powder marks or not.

Mathias Riebli, a dairyman who resides on the Carriger ranch, was at the house on the afternoon of the shooting, between 4 and 5 o'clock, when Boggs Carriger came home drunk, excited and grumbling. He was heard to say, "I am boss of this ranch." William Carriger made no remonstrance nor said anything; he was feeling unwell. The witness stated that he went to his home near by and in about half an hour returned, finding the body of Wm. Carriger lying on the bed in the front room, and saw blood on the door and floor. On cross-examination conducted by Mr. Ware, he admitted when coming to the house, through the orchard, he found Boggs Carriger lying on the ground weeping and threatening to kill himself.

Al. Griffith testified to seeing bloody hand prints on the door, wall and chair, to the clothing worn by the deceased and to the absence of powder marks on clothing or body.

G. W. Sparks, the City Marshal of Sonoma, testified to the arrest of defendant and to seeing blood on the floor.

James Lennox testified to having seen Wm. and Boggs Carriger have a fight, in which Boggs was considerably cut up and bruised. Heard Boggs say that he would get even with him. Also in the month of May, last year, heard Boggs say that "I'll see that Mrs. Carriger won't get a cent from Bill." What the effect of this evidence would have been it is impossible to tell. It was struck from the record on motion of the defense, together with the declaration of Boggs Carriger that he would kill all the O'Brien's. On the cross-examination it was learned that the witness was in the employ of Mr. O'Brien and an effort to impeach his testimony was made by inquiring if he hadn't stolen a hundred and fifty dollars. This was met with objections from the prosecution that were sustained by the court.

Judge A. J. Blaney, the ex-Coroner, then took the stand and stated that he had made a close inspection of the clothing and body of deceased, but had failed to discover powder marks. That at the time of the autopsy he had gathered up the clothing, placed it in a bundle, intending to carry it away with him, but in the confusion it was overlooked. He returned the next morning to get the clothing, but found it had been burned. He failed to recollect meeting Mr. Schetter on his way, or a conversation, suggested by the defense, in which he was told to hasten, as they were cleaning up and would likely destroy the clothing.

This closed the testimony of the prosecution.

Barclay Henley then made the opening statement for the defense and called Otto Schetter, brother-in-law of the prisoner, who testified to the burning of the clothing and to the conversation had with the coroner; also of the love and affection of the brothers, not knowing of any quarrel or misunderstanding ever existing.

Mrs. L. L. Lewis and Mrs. A. C. Tufts, sisters of defendant, testified likewise to the friendship of the brothers for each other. They had both made frequent visits to the Carriger home and had never known of any difficulty.

Solomon Carriger, a brother, testified that the brothers were generally on good terms, occasionally had slight misunderstandings, but never observed any want of affection. Stated he burned the clothes because they were expecting company and did not want them around. On the cross-examination, stated at the time of the shooting he was out camping, about six miles from the ranch, and the news of the tragedy was brought to him by George Tate. In response to Mr. Burnett's question as to whether he didn't exclaim upon receipt of the intelligence, "It was just as I expected," he was doubtful, but couldn't say for sure; but if he did it was due to excitement.

Fred. B. Carriger, a cousin of the defendant, testified that he was at the house during a forest fire, at which William Carriger, in his efforts to subdue the flames, had overexerted himself and was made ill. Some few days before the shooting he was at a dance, when Boggs asked that he walk up to the doctor with him. They went together and Boggs asked the doctor to come out and see Bill. The prosecution objected to this testimony, but after authority for its admission was shown the objections were overruled.

Solomon Carriger was recalled to prove that the pistol was an heirloom and had been around the house for years. Objections of the prosecution that this was irrelevant and immaterial were sustained.

Oliver Sherman, Mrs. Schetter and A. C. Tufts all testified to the friendship and love of the brothers for each other.

Robert Fowler, was expected to know a great deal about the shooting, but when put upon the stand his testimony did not amount to much. On examination he stated that no scuffle had taken place on the night of the shooting, that if there had been one he would have heard it. Boggs said he was going out to shoot a chicken. Bill left the room and was followed soon afterwards by Boggs, and a few minutes later followed the pistol shot.

Boggs Carriger also testified in his own behalf. He claimed the shooting was accidental as above set forth and narrated in detail all the circumstances occurring in the house that day.

The other witnesses examined were D. D. Davisson, L. Breitenbach and Geo. Engler. The latter testified concerning the exclamation attributed to Sol Carriger when he was informed that his brother had been shot. Engler heard the remark, but upon cross-examination it was brought out that the remark was made before it was known who had done the shooting and was immediately followed by an inquiry from Solomon Carriger: "Who did it?"

The prosecution then rested.

CONVICTED.

On Thursday afternoon, the case was given to the jury at half-past 8 o'clock. After deliberating two hours and a half a verdict of murder in the second degree was rendered.

PROBABLY FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Young Man Shoots Himself in the Head.

Alfred DeBois, a clerk in the Mervyn Hotel, Glen Ellen, on Tuesday last, while cleaning a revolver came near blowing his brains out. The weapon, which was supposed to be unloaded, was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking the young man on the right temple, making an ugly if not a fatal wound.

It appears that DeBois went to his room on the second floor of the hotel to procure a revolver to shoot a predatory cat. Shortly after he had gone up stairs Mrs. Harrison, wife of the proprietor, who was down stairs, heard a peculiar noise overhead and in the direction of the young man's room and repaired to the same to see the cause. Upon entering she was horrified to see DeBois supporting himself against the bed covered with blood which spurted from a gaping wound in the temple. He was conscious and as the lady entered exclaimed in a feeble voice, "I am dying!"

Mrs. Harrison assisted the wounded man on the bed. She then hastened for assistance and telephoned to this place for a physician, who, upon arriving at the bedside of DeBois succeeded in staunching the flow of blood. An effort was also made to locate the bullet but without success.

At latest accounts the physicians, Drs. Vance and Smith, entertain little hope for the young man's recovery.

In expectation of dying DeBois, who declares he shot himself accidentally, made his will yesterday. He has a mother and brother living in France. He has been employed in the Mervyn Hotel for three years and was very popular with the guests of the house.

THE DONAHUE RAILWAY.

Runs That There Will Be Lively [illegible]

[illegible] the sale of the Donahue railway to the Seligmans of New York for $420,000, with the blanket mortgage of $4,500,000 attached, will come up before the Superior Court of Marin county. So far the Seligmans have been the only bidders for the road, and it is very likely that they will secure control of the property, which is the best paying railroad, considering the miles operated, of any road in the United States.

The Marin Tocsin, however, claims that there will be a lively competition for possession of this very desirable piece of railway property. That paper states that two syndicates of San Francisco capitalists have organized to bid on the property and they will push the price up considerably beyond the Seligman bid. Attorney E. F. Preston has the handling of matters for the principal of these combinations, which is said to represent parties worth many millions of dollars. The other syndicate is not so strong, but may be a formidable competitor at the finish. Some of the railroads seeking connections on the Pacific Coast are very likely to enter the ring, to say nothing of the Southern Pacific Company, which has long been credited with a desire to gobble the Donahue outfit.

Death of G. Barbarin.

Gratien Barbarin, for many years a resident of this place, died in the Napa Insane Asylum, last Wednesday. The deceased about two years ago was prostrated with sun-stroke, which to a certain extent deprived him of his reason. Several weeks ago he became worse both mentally and physicially and it was thought advisable to remove him to the Napa Insane Asylum, where he could be properly treated. Mr. Barbarin was a member of Temple Lodge, No. 14, F. and A. M., under whose auspices his funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The deceased was a native of Gaubert, Department Basses-Alpes, France, and aged 53 years, 11 months and 5 days.

Peculiar Accident.

Miss Ella Durant, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durant of Glen Ellen, met with a singular accident last Thursday morning, which came near destroying the eyesight of the left eye. The young lady was curling her hair with a hot curling iron which slipped out of her hand and struck her on the eyelid causing a very painful burn. Had the hot end of the iron penetrated the eye it would, no doubt, have destroyed the eyesight. Recently a young woman near Sacramento met with a similar mishap which completely destroyed the sight of one of her eyes.

Looking for Engagements.

Just at this period of the year, when the pantomime season is rapidly approaching, actors and actresses, particularly those of the lighter schools, fly to the papers to secure engagements. The current number of the principal journal devoted to theatrical and music hall requirements contains vast numbers of advertisements, not only of this kind, but of every possible requisite for the stage, and some particulars of them may prove interesting.

There are 404 ladies, including both actresses proper and music hall stars, major and minor, who have vacant dates that require filling. In addition to these thirty-three combinations of "sisters," eleven troops of lady gymnasts and trick bicyclists, three fat women, two lady champion rifle shots and a strong lady seek engagements. Even this does not complete the list. Twenty-four competent lady pianists want something to do, nine leading chorus ladies have nowhere to sing, and four female instructors will be happy to teach dancing to aspiring disciples of Tersipchore.

The male portion of the community is represented by 419 advertisements, including exponents of the legitimate drama and representatives of the music hall stage. To these must be added nine jugglers, fourteen tight rope walkers and aerial trapeze specialists, four strong men, a dozen circus clowns, six conjurers and a man monkey—whatever the latter may be. There are fifty-eight instrumentalists who desire positions in orchestras, and seven amateurs wish to go on the stage. Trios, families and troops are found in twenty-five instances. —London Tit-Bits.

The March of Mind.

The two boys, eleven and thirteen years old, who snatched a woman's pocketbook at the postoffice, where she was writing a money order, and then led the policeman a merry chase by hallways and roofs, illustrate the march of mind. When the novelist of "Oliver Twist" sketched the youthful London criminal, with whom he was well acquainted, he makes him an expert pickpocket. He appears as versatile and ready of wit in doubling and covering his trail, but nothing will be found in his performance that suggests the New World audacity. In its minor field it is of a piece with the dash that robs western banks and holds up railway trains. It is the revelation of a mental quality, and as such is worthy the meditation of the philosopher.—New York Evening Sun.

A Boa Constrictor Among the Bananas.

As a merchant on Louisiana avenue was unloading a wagon load of bananas a small boa constrictor dropped from one of the bunches. There was a general stampede, during which the native of Central America calmly coiled itself and waited developments. In a few moments a large crowd had assembled at a safe distance and his snakeship was discussed at long range. The cold pavement, however, and the chilling atmosphere were not conducive to a great amount of hilarity on the part of the snake, and after a little while he tied himself in a dozen bowknots, tucked his head out of sight and went to sleep. It was a fatal mistake, for a moment later he was a prisoner, and now poises in coils as the chief attraction in a museum in Twelfth street.—Washington Star.

Quail Is Cheap This Season.

One of the most astonishing things just now is the cheapness of quail in all the restaurants around the city. I believe the birds are remarkably plenty this year, for the market is certainly drugged with them.

It is amusing to see men who have all their lives looked upon quail as rather an expensive luxury pick up a bill of fare from a restaurant table and read, "Roast quail, thirty-five cents." They can scarcely believe their eyes. The majority of them "just know for a certainty" that the dish is not what it pretends to be. It can't be possible they tell you. The birds must be robins or something like that. All the same they eat them and enjoy the meal, for the birds are quail, and good ones too.—New York Herald.

Why He Failed.

A queer story is told of a Clermont county merchant a few weeks ago. While in this city he was attracted by the watches displayed in a pawnshop window and stepped inside to examine them. Two or three persons from his village happened to pass and saw him. They went home and gossiped about the matter. A report was spread that he was hard up and had been seen pawning his watch in Cincinnati. The report injured his business and his creditors also began to press him. In a short time he was compelled to make an assignment. —Cincinnati Times-Star.

A Coroner's Expenses.

The statement of the expenses of Dr. Thomas Masson, candidate for coroner on the Democratic ticket, as filed with the county clerk under the statute, is as follows:

My whole election expenses consist of this sheet of paper and envelope and two cent stamp and the time taken to write you and go before the proper person to be sworn.—Watertown (N. Y.) Times.

Fighting a Shark.

A Roche Harbor (Wash.) young woman recently had quite an experience with a large shark, which undertook to get a salmon from her hook while she was hauling her line in. By persistent efforts with an oar she succeeded in getting the best of him, but in diving he slashed the boat with his tail, nearly upsetting it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mexican Telegraphs and Railroads.

In the republic of Mexico there are now about 22,000 miles of telegraph lines in operation, including the new lines constructed since last April. There are now over 6,600 miles of railroad in Mexico, about 124 miles having been constructed since last April.

How Fishermen Are Paid.

The fisherman's life on the banks and the Georges is a very hard one, though they live well on board better than on shore. They have to, that they may stand the excessive cold; and their pay is like their lives, a floating doubt. The voyage is made on shares. From the gross profits of the catch are deducted the cost of bait and ice, and one-fourth of 1 per cent. for the widows and orphans' fund. One-half of the net "stock," as it is called, goes to the owners of the vessel, the other half to the crew, from which is deducted each man's share of the crew's expenses—that is, cook swages, water, medicine chest, etc.—R. Cleveland Coxe in Century.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. My wife was troubled with nervousness about one year before she took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and at that time had very severe attacks of spasm, convulsion, and pains in different parts of the body; when in this state her lower jaws would act violently and set sometimes, bite her tongue, breathe heavily, then short, then seemed to stop entirely, get a wild look in her eyes and rolling around, then stop sometimes; it would take two men to hold her in bed, otherwise her body would cramp and be so for two hours. She took but two bottles of the Nerve Tonic, which cured her entirely of all these torments, which myself and wife gladly testify it truly had the desired effect

DO YOU WANT TO ADOPT A BABY?

Maybe you think this is a new business, sending out babies on application; it has been done before, however, but never have those furnished been so near the original sample as this one. Everyone will exclaim, "Well! that's the sweetest baby I ever saw!" This little black-and-white engraving can give you but a faint idea of the exquisite original, which we propose to send to you, transportation paid. The little darling rests against a pillow, and is in the act of drawing off its pink sock, the mate of which has been pulled off and flung aside with a triumphant coo. The flesh tints are perfect, and the eyes follow you, no matter where you stand. The exquisite photographic product is the greatest painting of Ida Waugh, the most celebrated of modern painters of baby life, ever to be given to those who subscribe to Demorest's Family Magazine for 1893. The reproductions cannot be told from the original, which cost $400, and are the same size of the picture. The baby is life size, and almost by life like. We have also in preparation, to present to our subscribers during the year, four great pictures by such artists as Percy Cranch and Humphrey, Louis Deschamps, and others of world-wide renown. Take only two examples of what we did during the past year, "A Yard of Pansies," and "A White House Orchid" by the wife of President Harrison, and you will see what our promises can.

Those who desire for Demorest's Family Magazine for 1893 to possess a gallery of exquisite works of great value, besides a Magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its literature, illustrations and subject matter, and for every one to read on all the topics of the day, and all the fads and discoveries, and of interest about the household, to add a most interesting reading matter, in short, a perfect delight for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion Magazine, its fashion plates are perfect, and we give you, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2, and you will really get over $25 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send 10 cents for a specimen copy.

NAGLE IN COURT.

In the Justice's Court of Santa Rosa Township, Sonoma County, California.

J. W. RAGSDALE, Plaintiff, vs. F. G. NAGLE, Defendant.

The plaintiff for cause of action against the defendant, alleges: That on the 16th day of November, 1888, said defendant, F. G. Nagle, received from G. W. Call the sum of one hundred (100) dollars, the property of the Sonoma County Abstract Bureau; that of said money said defendant, Nagle, returned to said Bureau the sum of $20 only, and retained, and ever since has retained, the balance of said $100 to-wit, $80, for his own use, and that no part of said $80 has ever been paid; that said Bureau assigned said claim to plaintiff.

For a further and separate cause of action plaintiff alleges: That defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the sum of $80 for money had and received from G. W. Call, November 16th, 1888, for the use and benefit of the Sonoma County Abstract Bureau, which claim has been assigned to the plaintiff, and that no part of the same has ever been paid.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays for a judgment against defendant for the sum of $80 and costs.

RUTLEDGE & PRESSLEY, Attorneys for Plaintiff.

Dec. 9, 1891, complaint filed, summons issued and served. Dec. 15 default and judgment entered against defendant for $80 and costs. Dec. 16th, Nagle pays judgment.
